The original purchaser acknowledges and agrees that this product is a hand-made, hand-finished product and each piece is unique. Any samples provided are typical of texture, finish, color and individual characteristics but they should not be considered exact representations of the final product. There can be up to a 15% variation in color and texture from unit to unit. In addition, shape detail can vary as much as ¼" in size. The texture created by entrapped air ranges from smooth to randomly indented. Minor chipping, water staining and non-structural hairline cracks are also traditional characteristics of this product. As with natural stone, color will vary on individual orders and among individual pieces in the same order. As with natural stone, excessive heat exposure may cause discoloration. As this product ages, color may lighten or darken according to specific field or storage conditions such as humidity, temperature and exposure to sunlight.
